Technology has negative and positive effects on life. Positive effects make life easier life.Learning everything was fast. We have to be careful with technology, because we can be addicted to technology.Negative effects are very harmful.I think positive effects of technology are more than negative effects. The first of its negative effects are addiction.Addiction is very dangerous. It affects us badly. Second, negative effect is that it reduces thinking. The first of its positive effects are socializing. We can meet new people with social media.In short,technology effects depend on us.

Technology is the most used thing in day. They are the most needed and most used devices such as phones, computers and tablets in daily life. While these have benefits, they also have harms when used when abused much. As technology is beneficial in many aspects it also has harmful aspects, so we need to pay attention to them. Technology has both beneficial and harmful aspects. Technology can be used to quickly access informations.Technology often makes our daily lives easier. But when used too much, it harms our health too much. It may harm our eyes, it may cause back, waist and neck pain. It is very useful when it is used in place and on time.

Technology has effects on our daily life. It is divided into two groups as positive and negative. Technology makes people's lives easier. But technology has also harmed people's lives. For example , it negatively affects people's social life.Overall,technology exists in every sense positively and negatively in people's life. Positive aspects in human life are as follows. For example: you can have easy internet access, home robots , electric cars , etc. Negative aspects in human life are as follows: Technology leads to obesity because people spend a lot of time in front of computers. In short, technology can be both good and bad.

Technology has been in our lives for years, but recently it has made our lives much easier. For example, I no longer have to worry if you forget something at the socket. Because with the advancement of technology, you can control all of them from your phone. Technology is constantly advancing in housework and kitchen work. For example, newly released airfryer or robot vacuums have become very popular. This is a great convenience for people who work and do not have time.I think technology is always evolving and as it evolves it makes our life easier.

Technology has evolved as humanity has evolved. Humanity using technology produced to weapon and self protect.They built to farm for the food.They escape to nature to build house.Technology has evolved to continue today and makes it easier to live. Technology has helped us and continues but this isn't good every time. Thanks to technology daily job speeds up .It made it safer for several jobs.For this reason people are getting used to be lazier.For the automotive systems hundreds of people lost their jobs.Technology has not just protect us,at the same time it captures us.

Technology is a power for humanity. People use technology for many things nowadays. Also it has many good or bad effects on our life. It depends on how we use this power. For example, it helps to us for education, communication, information, shopping etc. Technology sometimes affects us negatively. Sometimes there is no security. If we use it too much, it can be addiction, it can affect our health badly. Sometimes, there may be a lack of communication. So, technology has many good and bad effects and it depends on how we use the power of technology.

We use technology a lot of in our daily life. It has many useful features. I want to tell you about some of them. Examples are as follows; Learning recipes, using navigation. It makes our daily life easier. It has many properties but not all of them are useful. Unfortunately many useful apps are now premium. If you are not premium you are watching always you are advertisement. A lot of people don't like this.You can buy useful apps and make them more useful. We can talk about the negative features of technology in daily life. We spend a lot of time on our mobile phone and we forget doing homework and doing daily tasks. We need to be careful using technology in our daily lives.

AY AŞ11 Nis

Technology is a big part our life. It has positive and negative effects in daily life.I think It has more positive effects, less negative effects .Already Its thanks to technology I can write now. Positive effects are that technology makes our life easier. We spend less time and less effort.Negative effects are I think it has not got emotion and people don't need other people, so they feel lonely.In spite of negative effects, technology is a great thing and a big part our life.

KA Cİ11 Nis

Technology is settled in human life nowadays.I couldn't understand the sentence. People use technology for each action.For example shopping,education,relationships,business etc. This has good sides and bad sides.Now I will give some examples. Shopping is so fast and easier today but this easiness brings a problem. For example orders get lost, getting wrong orders, wrong size etc. Education become from afar. Yes these are good sides but this event brings technical problems, contact problems etc.These prevent students from having enough education.There are more examples but as a result technology is for better or worse in life. Therefore how you use it, it is your choice.
